

Aquarius Full Moon Festival

16th February 2022 – the day of safeguarding

Personality Aspect: Let desire in form be the rule.

Soul Aspect: Water of Life am I, poured forth for thirsty men.

Throughout this annual zodiacal journey, we come now to celebrate the festival of Aquarius. incoming energies of Aquarius will change humanity's perceptions in a variety of ways. The evolution of group consciousness and the growth of selfless service will deepen and expand our relationship with the synthesis of Oneness. As will the perception of God from being one Who is purely transcendent and impersonal to one Who is both transcendent and immanent and with these realisations, humanity will consciously build paths to greater understanding and the greater Truth of synthesis.

The symbol of Aquarius of two wave-like lines indicates both the hindrances and the opportunities that humanity encounters as it moves inexorably towards the goal of a new world order of freedom and brotherhood. Of all the signs in the Zodiac, Aquarius is particularly associated with the life and welfare of the group.

The symbol denotes flexibility and when applied to the integrating personality indicates a fluidity within the mental and emotional nature which often gives rise to duality with an associated undefined sense of purpose. In the laboratory of life's everyday lessons and the inherent psychological quest to learn by doing, the lower self is gradually inspired to respond to the innate prompting of the soul's wisdom. In this way the soul infusing personality adapts itself to time and circumstance to elicit the best transformational result from any given situation.

The laws of progress necessitate that what is right at one time and for one stage of consciousness, is no longer so when a further stage of attainment has been reached. A new set of goals, values, and influences must then evolve and take the place of the old and the movement of our Sun into the sign of Aquarius offers this needed new source of energy from which to draw our inspiration and code for going forward¹.

So, gradually humanity moves inexorably towards a new consciousness and culture which emerges from many varied and recurring polarised relationships. For example, with materialism, selfish-service, and racial consciousness. Within this flux and flow there is an embryonic spiritual adaptation and compromise with a willingness to step-down the impressions and insights emanating from the higher ideas of the soul. These higher sourced aspirations are implemented practically into the workings out of political, economic, ecological and social models to serve and support humanity and the welfare of the Planet.

We are told by the Tibetan Teacher Djwhal Khul, that "Aquarius . . . is a living sign and an emotional sign. It will stimulate the astral bodies of men into a new coherency, into a brotherhood of humanity which will ignore all racial and national differences and will carry the lives of people forward into synthesis and unity. . . . It's emotional effect will be to "purify" their astral bodies of men so that the material world ceases to hold such potent allure. . . ." ²

At present, humanity is striving to incorporate and harness the opportunities of a general and scientific flexibility of consciousness, which can be interpreted as being a required collective understanding and a focus on the implementation of the Plan. It is also required in the laboratory of our own selves as we endeavour to avoid getting stuck in a particular pattern of thinking and behaving that no longer serves the good of the whole. Fundamental changes and new approaches are required, whilst mentally and emotionally our spiritual intention remains fixed and purposeful as ever in the battleground of the opposites.

The group of world servers is a manifestation of the present aquarian impulse to serve. Their role is empowered by those who are working with them through meditation, prayer and visualisation. This subjective work is preparing for the new order and transforming the world to better reflect the archetypal plan without seeking uniformity or conformity of expression. The work underway will be and is purely practical involving all the fields of human endeavour. The subtle changes under way are occurring in grass root movements of ordinary people and community groups undertaking selfless service. There is a witnessing of change within different types of government which reflect and serve different stages of evolution in consciousness.

Nevertheless, the impulse and manifestation of group service is being achieved through unity of purpose based on a genuine desire for the true welfare and progress of all men and women everywhere. In this way the influence of the New Age Server comes alive pouring forth the water of Life to heal, serve and unify thirsty humanity.

So, let us now ponder for a moment on the current world situation and the changes taking place, before saying together the Mantram of the New Group of World Servers

*May the Power of the one Life pour through
The group of all true servers.
May the Love of the One Soul characterize the lives of all
Who seek to aid the Great Ones.
May I fulfil my part in the One Work through Self-forgetfulness, harmlessness and right speech.*

The 11th Labour – Cleansing the Augean Stables

The myth:

King Augeas owns a herd of cattle, the stables of which have not been cleaned for so long a time that a terrible pestilence is blighting the lives of the people throughout his land. In this eleventh labour, Hercules' task is to journey to the land of Augeas and offer to cleanse these stables of their ancient evil. The king, unwilling to believe that anyone could or would do this without a reward, places conditions on the task stating, that if Hercules performs it in one day, he can keep one-tenth of the cattle, but should he fail, his life and fortune will belong to the King.

Pondering on how he might perform the labour, Hercules notices two rivers flowing nearby and an answer to the problem flashes into his mind. With might and main Hercules labours and, by great exertions, succeeds in diverting both streams to the dung-filled stables. The rushing torrents pour through two holes that he punches in opposite sides of the wall, sweeping away the long-accumulated filth. Having performed this labour in one day, Hercules returns to tell King Augeas of his success. On hearing the news, however, the King flies into a rage, declaring that it was the rivers, not Hercules, that had done the work, and that this has been nothing more than a ruse to deprive him of his cattle, even perhaps, of his throne. Hercules is ordered to leave the kingdom and never to return, on pain of death. But, on returning to his Teacher, Hercules is told, that the performance of so selfless a deed has made of him a server of the world, and the jewel that the eleventh labour bestows, now belongs to him, forevermore.

Interpretation of the myth:

In this labour, Hercules sounds the keynote of the world server that will be the hallmark of the disciple in the Aquarian Age. We live in a time when the issue of pollution and corruption is very important. But the pollution that Hercules is asked to clear up is not merely physical – rather, it is the selfish and materialistic desires that cause the pollution in the first place. King Augeas symbolises the individual's lower self or personality that should control its own desires but lets them run rampant instead, misusing resources and endangering others.

When the lighted energies of the Soul begin transmuting wrong relationships, the personality balks at the prospect of losing control over its little dominion and has little time for serving others. The soul prevails, however, and through its might directs the great purifying waters of life and love into the world of the personality, breaking down all separative barriers and establishing the spirit of inclusiveness and group consciousness. This implies an ability to work in union with others towards a shared purpose, using the transformed personality for the correct direction of forces. Thus, the disciple becomes a world server, helping to clean out the accumulated waste of materialism and to enter a better age of simpler, purer and, most importantly, inclusive living.

Reflective Consideration of the current situation

Hercules shines a light onto the Way, and highlights not only the challenges but the opportunities that humanity is collectively facing at present as we stand at the Gateway of the Full Moon in Aquarius.

Under the influence of Aquarius humanity finds itself with the objective of applying its wise will in service of the Whole. The keynote of Aquarius is hope and the victory when the soul infused mind is working with and utilizing the fire of ideas and ideals is assured.

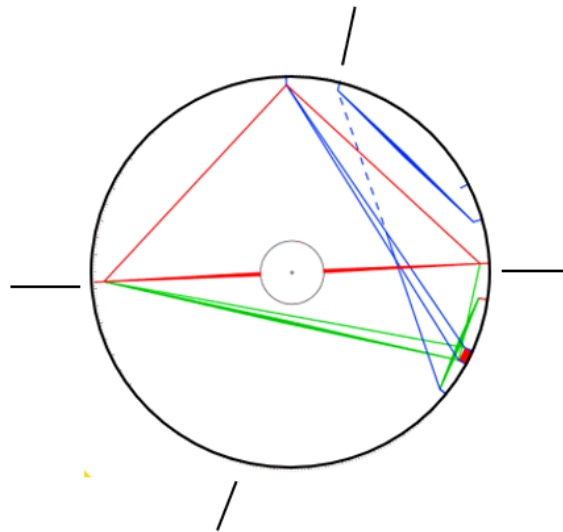

Take a moment to align with your centre of stillness and consider one or more of the following three questions:

1. At its core, the art of diplomacy utilises the principle of goodwill. How is diplomacy actively present within everyday relations in individual and current world situations?
2. Words are conveyors of thought and feeling. In what way are wise words being used to assuage tensions within the wider world?
3. 'The Divine Love and Loveliness of the Plan is working out.' (AAB) In what way are groups and communities waking up to and participating in the art of diplomacy in betterment for the common good, socially, economically and environmentally?

Group Analysis of the Aquarian Full Moon Chart 2022

The task confronting the World Aspirant, Humanity, in the air sign of Aquarius is to use his/her innovative capacity for networking with others in selfless service to the Plan. This service is achieved by bringing into the mass consciousness some greater unifying principle, which eliminates all ego-contrived barriers and aids the evolution of the whole through the attainment of right human relations. This chart is a living demonstration of the opportunities offered by a dedication to a synthesis of the opposites.

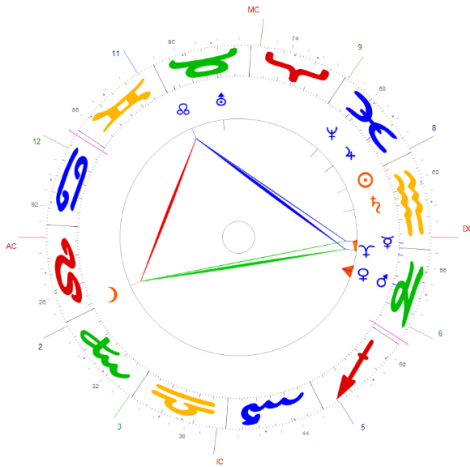

At first glance, two converging aspect patterns can be seen flowing through the chart. These two streams of energy meet and blend and potentially emerge as a unifying field that can cleanse and purify the emotional field that obfuscates and hinders the application of any necessary practical solutions.

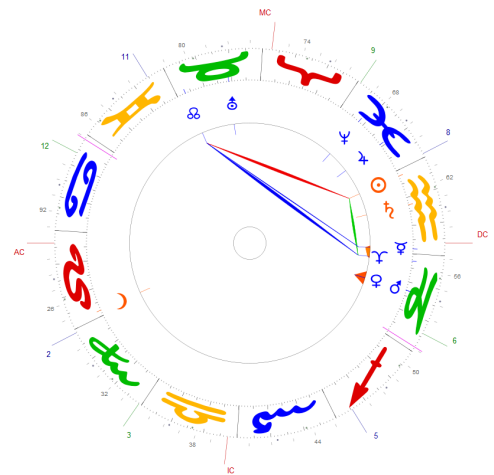

The Arena Aspect Pattern

The Arena aspect pattern shown here is a composite of four triangles: the red efficiency or achievement triangle; the red-green irritation triangle and two three coloured triangles, one of which is dominant and the other medium sized. Both of them are linked with the North Node which is a signpost, a possible pathway indicated by the soul for transformational growth.

The Dominant Learning Triangle

Medium Learning Triangle

The psychological and emotional challenges influenced by the Aquarian energies indicate that the aspirant humanity is taken up with managing the field of engagement that besets all of us as we strive to find resolutions. These include and transcend restrictive mindsets and ways of being derived from pandemic constraints and the attendant financial uncertainties that reveal the disparities of materialism. Many and varied societal restrictions are leading to a fine dance between compliance and rebellion. There is growing dis-ease, which is added to by disinformation being given credibility by news streams.

This quadrilateral aspect pattern indicates a field where a duel is being fought. The full moon axis reveals a polarised approach to life and death existential concerns. However, in this arena there is an opportunity, a possibility whereby both parties can achieve positive outcomes that contribute towards peaceful dynamic solutions. This necessitates using the skilful will and shrewd intellect in the process of diplomacy to navigate current contentious situations.

The polarities are such that ossifying structural forms, are resisting change and are threateningly demanding a commitment to the safeguarding of their wellbeing. This combative approach is highlighting the need for compromises that serve the security of both fields of contention.

The art of the mediator is that of a world server who by adopting the middle ground of advocacy between conflicting parties is able to develop an understanding of two incompatible opinions. This means that the essential quality of a peace maker is that of adopting a dynamic fearless stance and constantly holding to the possibility of a positive outcome.

An urgent resolution to the huge pressures generated by these opposing priorities and requirements is seen by all sides to lie in a vast effort to produce achievable yet radical reforms in the basic assumptions that underpin the fear and threats of instability. Thus, giving rise to a lack of personal freedom, economic viability, and business activity within society.

The mediators active within this energy field of 'either and' strive to create suitable relationships for opposing sides to enable them to resolve the conflict. There is a persistent commitment to change the fixed structures that hinder and obstruct.

The complexity of all situations and crises that currently beset humanity are promoting changes in attitudes and awareness. There is an evolving ability for involved parties to harness the will to compromise and to transcend from the old forms of thought to the new. Such evolutionary changes in consciousness at present underway involves the demand for improved equity in the fields of health, ecology, and societal economic fairness.

The energies at play within this Aquarius Full Moon and potentiated by the unaspected Neptune are prompting a need to wake up from the sleepy comfort of past ways of being and doing - and to realise that the World needs a radical rethink. The 'Divine Spark' of honour, truthfulness, kindness, sharing and the ability to recognise and apply the need for selfless service that benefits the whole and not just the few - has and is arriving. We are observers and participants in the birthing of the New Age, which stretches before us.
