

The Opportunities and Challenges of the World Server Humanity

- during the Aries Full Moon on 8th April 2020

“I come forth and from the plane of mind I rule.”

The Labour of Humanity within the influential energies of the Aries Full Moon tasks us with gaining mental control and overcoming wrong thinking processes, wrong speech and erroneous ideas. All of these have a devastating effect on the emotions and therefore on the psychological and physical well-being of each one of us. By gaining mental control we come home to our innate wisdom and our authentic spiritual Self which is inherently group conscious.

The three main tests or Labours that the world community is facing at present remain the Covid19 pandemic, its associated economic challenges and the pending climate change catastrophe of which we are all aware.

The transpersonal aspect patterns held for us within the Aries Full Moon are inviting us individually and together through pain and suffering to awaken to the call of the Soul. Our personality reactions at present are bouncing between feeling versus thinking and this indecision is highlighting humanity's current 'battleground'.

Do we take heed of what is unfolding before us and around us as the virus takes hold within our communities?

Are we listening to the scientific evidence and the public health recommendations?

The present crisis is creating the conditions which are leading the collective to a great critical transformation from instinct to intellect. The current worldwide situation which is committed to self-isolation and social distancing is creating a learning environment. These radical adjustments in the human psyche and in the group disciple Humanity are precipitated by a tenacious searching and divine discontent which has the potential to cause the great transference in the human consciousness from intellectual perception to intuitive knowledge.

These are such interesting times. Globally and locally individuals and groups are awakening to an expanding realisation of the diversity and complexity of relationships that generate community and societies worldwide. There is underway now a vast shift, a movement, a change in consciousness that is revealing the complex and often invisible network of services that enable all of us to function as we do. Functioning within our social isolation we are coming to recognise that relationship is everything, from the mundane and overlooked, to the particular and known, everything has partness and wholeness that is of value and essential to the wellbeing of national and international affairs. 'Aries is the source, the beginning and the initiator of the New Age and its coming civilisations.' Esoteric Astrology p. 548

The Soul communicates through sound, colour and images. Using the image created by the aspect patterns at the exact time of the Aries Full Moon enables the meditator to work intuitively and in reciprocal resonance with the influential energies working their magic at this time. These impelling energies are urging the mass consciousness to become more soul aware inviting the collective to become more and more group conscious. It is humanity's destiny to make this transference in awareness from personality to evolving group focus. This emerging transformation is irresistible and guides the evolutionary spiritual impulses of change towards manifesting the law of group endeavour and service.

In the flux and flow of the moment the darker forces within the personality are highlighted and we are witnessing the struggle to let go of established habits that limit and hinder growth into new ways of being. The choice to change and transform selfish attitudes, behaviours and ways of reacting is now. There is an urgent need and an inherent tendency to blend and fuse with the new which nothing can arrest. The achievement of ultimate synthesis is inevitable, and this the current crisis is promoting. Innate spontaneous creative activity, producing evolutionary development – both natural and spiritual is afoot. We are being urged to create better conditions for all. Change is underway within the chaos of the moment and the opportunity of the moment has the potential to stimulate an awakening so that the isolated self opens to recognise its part and place within the network of the Whole.

Will Humanity the World Disciple stand its ground in spiritual being and harness its collective responsibility of finding the Way?

Individual instinctual relationships identified with form, expressed selfishly are currently being challenged to give way to wiser inclusive group relationships imbued with goodwill.

The energetic interplay now active is impelling humanity through its current experiences to find ways of adapting to this new life situation and its associated demands. The habitual daily routines of managing rest, work and play are being reviewed. Humanity is invited to engage in the battle between the usual demands of its daily existence and the requirement to find new ways of managing life on Planet Earth.

There are however tendencies within the psyche of humanity to resist cooperating with the changes that offer new recognitions. This reluctance to change institutes a repetitive learning cycle which will make Humanity adjust its consciousness. These energy configurations of the moment are leading us through the trials and tribulations of the crisis to deeper levels of understanding. This is a cyclic group endeavour and each time the process begins anew there is the prospect of modifying Humanity's consciousness. Failure is a strict teacher and humanity is in the zone of learning generated by this global crisis.

The challenges and needs of the times are giving rise to an energy dynamic that inspires intuitive creativity and surprising inspirational solutions that meet the demands of the now. The usual tendency to 'hold on' and 'hold back' is being overcome as the generosity of the principles of goodwill and sharing are active and alive such that the created solutions are being offered for use worldwide.

The character-building nature of these energy patterns along with the whole energy dynamic playing through humanity at this Aries Full Moon is promoting a choice for change that will lead inexorably to the establishing of the new civilisation and new world order.
