

Virgo Full Moon – 20.9.2021 @ 00.54

Personality: And the Word said, Let Matter Reign

Soul:

I am the mother and the child. I, God, I, Matter am.

Virgo is representative of virgin matter, untouched, untried, unused, awaiting the impregnation of spirit. The issue of which will be the consciousness in form, the Son, the personal 'I' consciousness, the Christ Consciousness within matter, as the interpreting mind evolves steadily to consider other concepts both ageless and universal. Since all planned creation begins in the mind an example of virgin matter might be an open unbiased mind or a thoughtform true to the idea that embodies some divine intent.

The Mother of The World and the energies of Virgo represent the feminine principle whose sacred mission is service. This is often misunderstood leading to the suppression and mistreatment of women in societies around the world. The fruit of her service is the World Saviour, the perfected example of the server who walks among humankind. The energy of this saving grace calls forth "love" upon planet Earth and within all true servers. Under her influence servers lovingly support and bring forth the divinity in others.

Virgo has been represented by Eve, Isis and most recently by Mary with a child in her arms. These three symbolize the mental, emotional, and physical bodies of the personality. So, Virgo's influential energies are of important significance in our civilization as they embody and symbolize the entirety of the form nature. These three fields of consciousness functioning coherently give rise to an integrated personality which is an expression of the third aspect of divinity, creative intelligence, the Holy Spirit, the active nurturing principle in the universe.

Virgo is under the influence of the second ray of love wisdom facilitating the shift from immersion in matter to identification with consciousness expressed as an outflowing radiation of love.

In Virgo Mercury assists the birth of the Christ consciousness. Mercury rules the spiritual bridge, the antahkarana, the communication highway that links the intellectual abstract mind with the realm of ideas and pure reason. In Virgo Mercury reaches full power, for Virgo is intelligence and the hidden Christ is wisdom or pure reason.

Currently there is an urgent need to access the resource of this inner wisdom to offset the overestimated importance of materialism. A positive acquiescence is required founded in an unfolding understanding intelligence that makes true cooperation possible. This possibility marks a great step forward in the spiritual, transformational life of duality, with the medley of polar opposites that characterize the relationships of humanity.

Through desperation, the personality invokes the soul, the Higher Self, and in this way inner reserves and spiritual resources hidden deep in the divine nature are then revealed. This impact marks the acceptance by the soul of the demand of its personality for help and light. It is the soul that responds to the plea of the personality for guidance and not the other way round.

We see this invocative appeal currently in the lives of people who face extreme situations and whose desperation is evoking higher sources for added light. In fact, the whole of humanity is at present in this situation facing a complex of crises due to the world conditions. These dire situations do have a positive side due to their invocative stimulus. Mass subjective pleas are rising to the Hierarchy, the Kingdom of Souls, evoking a response and signalling a time of great opportunity.

The New Group of World Servers is playing a major role as its members work to give birth to soul energy expressed as love, goodwill and right human relationships that give rise to cooperation. As this is accomplished, the results will bring peace, individual, racial, and planetary and the Christ consciousness of the worldwide group will have been established.

Let us pause and consider the wider group and the souls of the servers who are working with dedication to uplift humanity through the unfoldment of right relationships expressed and shared on a planetary scale.

The Mantram of Unification

The souls of all are one and I am one with them
I seek to love not hate
I seek to serve and not exact due service.
I seek to heal, not hurt.

Let pain bring due reward of light and love,
Let the Soul control the outer form,
And life, and all events.
And bring to light the Love
That underlies the happenings of the time.

Let vision come and insight.
Let the future stand revealed.
Let inner union demonstrate and outer cleavages be gone
Let Love prevail
Let all people love.

The Sixth Labour of Hercules – Seizing the Girdle of Hippolyte

The Myth:

Hippolyte is the Queen of the Amazons, a great race of women warriors, to whom Venus, the Queen of Love, had given a girdle, the symbol of unity, motherhood, and the sacred Child, achieved through struggle. Travelling to the shores of her kingdom, Hercules fights Hippolyte and kills her for the girdle. Too late, he realized that Hippolyte had not put up any struggle but had offered the girdle to Hercules, under instruction from God.

In a state of shock, Hercules sets forth to redeem this failure. While journeying back to the shores of the sea, he hears the screams of the beautiful Hesione being attacked and then swallowed by a sea monster. Hercules swims furiously out to sea to rescue her and, as the monster turns on him, opening its mouth to roar, Hercules rushes down the red tunnel of its throat, grasps Hesione and hews his way out of the serpent's belly. Thus, after slaughtering the feminine principle that gave him what he needed, Hercules makes amends by rescuing that which also needed him.

Interpretation of the myth:

From some aspects, Virgo is said to be the oldest of the zodiacal signs and represents the mother, portrayed, down the ages, by figures such as Isis, Eve, and the Virgin Mary. Mary carries the portrayal of the quality of this sign the furthest, for she bears the sacred Child in her arms. It is in Virgo that the Christ consciousness is conceived and nurtured in the “womb of time”. Virgo concerns the whole goal of the evolutionary process, to shield, nurture and finally to reveal the hidden spiritual reality.

Virgo is known as the Goddess of Virtue or of Vice, and in this labour, both these qualities are evoked in Hercules' nature. At first in this labour, he fares badly, for despite obtaining his objective, the girdle of unity, his lack of love and understanding leads him to fight and kill Hippolyte for what she offered. His mishandling of the feminine principle, however, is ultimately redeemed by his deed of love in saving Hesione.

Those who first put foot on the spiritual path, yearning to free themselves from that which has ruled and enslaved their spiritual nature for so long, often consider the body the root of all evil. But this is not so, for the purpose of human incarnation is to redeem matter, to raise it into heaven through the birth and rule of the Christ consciousness. In the legend, the Amazons' worship of the moon, the form nature, and of Mars, the God of war, shows a lack of awareness of their own true function. The disciple in Virgo demonstrates an understanding of the feminine principle of nature through a changed perspective, symbolized by Mary pictured with the moon under her feet and the one to be known as the Prince of Peace in her arms. Hercules highlights not only the challenges but the opportunities that humanity is collectively facing at present as we stand at the Gateway of the Virgo Full Moon.

Reflective Consideration of the current situation

Under the influence of Virgo, humanity finds itself with the opportunity to nurture the inherent wisdom within matter. This involves a move from identification with form to a growing ability to identify and work with the Love, Action and Beauty within relationship, which in turn aids the development of evolving group awareness.

Take a moment to pause and to align with your centre of stillness and give consideration to one or both of the following questions:

1. It is not easy to recognise the new civilisation during the current agitation of conflict and changing attitudes.
 - a. Take a moment to consider where and how old ways of being are meeting new attitudes and values.
 - b. Creatively imagine ways in which constructive synthesis can emerge from your considerations of these meeting points.
2. Society is a complex of relationships between humanity and nature. Conscious understanding of nature is evolving.
 - a. What new ideas have you become aware of in respect to humanity's husbandry of Gaia?
 - b. How could changes in the management of the natural world better serve the common good of all?

Virgo full moon analysis 2021

The task before the Aspirant, Humanity, in the sign of Virgo is to awaken to the spiritual reality hidden within the form, to shield it while it develops and to nurture it with the wisdom accrued from mundane experience so that, after 3 further tests of reorientation to prove the personality's commitment to service, the soul can be safely birthed into 'tangible and objective' manifestation on earth.

There are two overlapping parts to the aspect dynamic in this chart which are linked together through the full moon opposition. There is a red line joined to a large blue triangle which protrudes into the left side, or inner, subjective sphere, of the chart. Then, the right-hand side, which is the part facing and in living exchange with the 'other' and the environment, is cluttered with energies which point to great creativity but are difficult to disentangle. There is an indication of much wasted activity and confusion as the psyche of humanity grapples to make sense of 'external' events.

The full moon polarity lies along the axis of individuation, marking the spectrum of development and expression between, at the lowest point, complete dependence on and immersion in the collective 'unconscious' and, at the highest point, the fulfilment of individualization with the achievement of autonomy and the capacity for independent thought and action.

This month it is the unconscious masses that are in the ascendency with their immature demand for unfettered freedom to be as they please, and to follow their feelings and instincts without restrictions or boundaries. There is great emotional instability and confusion at the astral level, and many are feeling vulnerable and, as a consequence, are easily swayed. Along with the many other forms of escapism, it is likely that quasi 'spiritual' or 'religious' figures promising salvation are beginning to influence public opinion and subtly exacerbate the divide between the people and those in power. These 'teachers' could be the forerunners of the New World Religion but could equally be false prophets preying on the indiscriminating need to be rescued from the chaos.

At the other end of the full moon polarity, those in power are caught up in the collective domain and working to address the domestic problems in health and employment using conventional approaches. Rather than engaging directly to resolve the breakdown in the social contract, the blame for this untenable state of affairs is deflected onto the accelerating breakdown of the institutions and structures which uphold the status quo, and the associated dissolution of the norms of interpersonal behaviour. Their desire to be popular means that they are unable to offer true leadership that rests only on their role in the traditional hierarchy of authority. Nevertheless, their agenda to champion the cause of fairness, equality and shared responsibility in society is benefitting from the crisis, and although their ideas have yet to produce any tangible results, the chart indicates that this initiative is in total alignment with the way forward.

It is worth noting that all three transpersonal planets – which act as bridges between the old ways of being and the new - are currently active in the conscious sphere of the psyche of humanity. It is likely that a point of no return has been reached in which old and now destructive beliefs, must be discarded in preparation for the incoming new paradigm of social responsibility and inter-dependence which is characteristic of the New Era.

On the right-hand side of the chart, we see that the dawning awareness of the existential threat posed by the crisis is acting as a catalyst for positive learning and growth, and there are definite signs of the stirring of group consciousness.

Firstly, the erosion of people's capacity to adapt successfully to the ongoing challenges is provoking them to think about fairness and justice in societal life. Despite being very tentative at present, there is a degree of readiness in the collective to engage in the painful, process of detaching from emotional egocentricity. This long-term process involves purifying the astral field to make way for the intuition and a reorientation to the group conscious love of the soul.

Secondly, the sense of freedom and relative ease which has been enjoyed in daily life is being undermined and people are waking up to the need to get involved to improve local conditions. They are actively networking and collaborating with others to gather objective information which will enhance understanding and has the potential to rebuild harmonious living at a higher level of group unity.

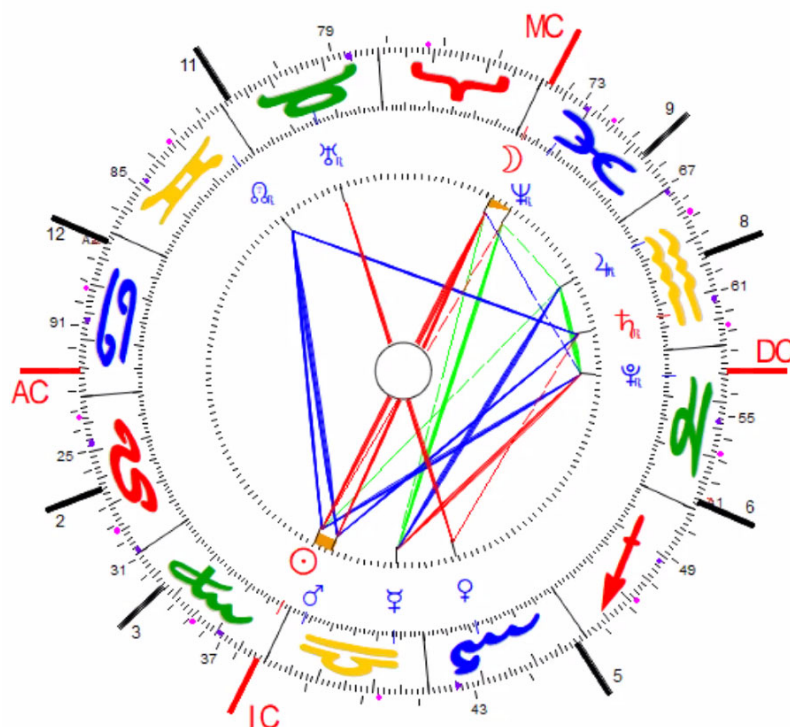

And, lastly, despite all the problems, there is an optimistic, verging on utopian, faith in the future of society. This is informed by evidence coming from the structural breakdown but also, to some extent, drawn from the 'spiritual or religious' influences mentioned above. Motivated by the vision of, and yearning for, a better world many are engaged in a sincere search for truth and a genuine desire to make wise decisions for the collective good.

Finally, we come to the red linear figure and the large blue triangle.

Underlying all the technological advances and sudden changes in financial and economic life, there is an ongoing shattering of the old material values and mores of patriarchy, and an upshift to a more universally caring, connective, and inclusive zeitgeist. The linear figure is highlighting how this trend is incompatible with the deep-seated collective glamour that condones by maintaining the established subtle distortions within society that keep the feminine principle subjugated to the masculine.

This challenge has the potential to provoke humanity's well-developed and highly resourceful intelligence into activity, bringing to bear its wealth of organizational capacity and its abundant skill for collaboration to skilfully resolve problems. These capacities are inherently conducive to the clear thinking and transparent communication required for the next step in evolution. Taken together we may discern the concept of the Law of Right Human Relations taking shape within the psyche of humanity.
